

ABSTRACT

My thesis is about Common property of spouses with connection of private entrepreneurship of the spouses. The issue itself is really wide, nevertheless I think that for better understanding of property rights and duties is necessary to define basic attribute of common spouses as an establishment, subject, modification, termination and dissolution of common property of spouses. The theses describing differences and specifies of mentioning expressions with the connection of entrepreneurship of the spouses.

Because of Civil code can not predict every situation that life brings, I try to implement into my theses also judicial decision and practices, specifically judicatures of higher court and provide the reader answers on the situation which could occur in the real life. In the connection of the new Civil code which is valid from the beginning of 2014, the theses take the common property of spouses in the consideration of new legal norm. I am also comparing the old version of Civil low with the new Civil code and pointing out of problematic spots which generate the additional questions. To find out the proper and clear answers will provide only future practice.
